

WORD VERGING ON WAR, SAYS RUSSIAN

Geneva, Nov. 6 (AP)—Attending the League of Nations disarmament commission today, Maxim Litvinoff, Russian delegate, declared that the world was now faced with grave imminence of war. The Soviet spokesman especially assailed France and those who demand security before disarmament as dangerous enemies of peace.

"It is no wonder," Litvinoff said, "that among the countries which were huddled in their demands for 'security' guarantees were some in which the chiefs of the military staffs were, as is now common knowledge, at the same time devising and carrying out plans for the provocation of war with their neighbors."

The Russian delegate declared himself hopeless of success for the Soviet's former proposals for absolute disarmament, and later for proportionate disarmament. He demanded, however, that the commission substitute the word disarmament for the term "limitation and reduction of armaments."

Although ruled not to order by the chairman, Litvinoff, who forbade the translation of Litvinoff's speech, the Russian delegate has presented copies of his pronouncement which were distributed to the press.

AMERICANS ARE SILENT
The American delegates remained silent throughout the Russian outburst, and later in the afternoon, the meeting of the preparatory commission.

Lord Cecil of Great Britain, Count von Bernstorff of Germany, Noriaki Kato of Japan, Litvinoff and Chairman Loucheur occupied the session with a discussion of the method of procedure. Count von Bernstorff and Chairman Loucheur, when to continue where the commission left off at its last sitting 18 months ago, without proposing questions already asked.

Litvinoff, however, denied the idea and declared that the passage of 18 months would not be a passage of time. He said that the commission had not proceeded with final and third readings of the convention.

TALKS OF SIGNS OF WAR.
Litvinoff quoted the Washington correspondent of a Berlin newspaper as reporting that Americans returning from summer European tours believed Europe was moving toward a new war. He asked:

"Does not the determination with which various states are re-arming the slightest increase in their armaments, and the anxiety with which they are carrying out further increases in their armaments, speak to us of the danger of war? Have not the war budgets of five of the biggest states increased by half a billion dollars, or 27 per cent, since 1925?"

by 'Perfect Butler'
Chicago, Nov. 6 (AP)—Plans of George Brown, known as the "perfect butler" to leave his savings of $18,000 to Rosemary Burr, wealthy daughter of his employer, may never be consummated. His will provided that the money go to the girl "in the event my wife dies before me." Jack Rubin, assistant to the public administrator, said it would be contested because Mrs. Brown died after her husband.

Miss Burr, a divorcee, has never indicated whether she would accept the bequest.

SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT

Editor Boston American:
There is something to think about the coming Thanksgiving Day, when you consider it in connection with the Thanksgiving Day, 500 years ago, 1530.

Look what the people did 500 years ago on Thanksgiving Day. Compare with it what will be done this Thanksgiving. In 1530, they did not have the means or the opportunity of getting what we enjoy. We make this day a festive occasion. The people of 500 years ago endowed it differently, making it more of a religious event for thanksgiving. Families met then at the festive board as they do now, but there was nothing else to think about except conversations of the neighbors, exchanging greetings. They never had sports. With us it is different. We make the day more of a gala day. Social and family amenities are evident. We make it a day of thanksgiving by showing we appreciate what the Divine Ruler of the universe has so beautifully endowed us with.

Ryan Praised for Tentative Efforts
Editor Boston American:
Glad to know that Wm. A. Ryan of Rochester has had official recognition and stamp of approval put on his seven-year job as the Treasurer of Boston. Ryan sailed unharmed over for seven long years and kept on, and like Columbus arrived at his goal. A better track should be made to Mr. Ryan's letters from the people of Boston from the close of the year 1929. The name of Ryan has a slender thread of gold running through it.

ANNA CROWWELL.
Gives His Views on
Other Writer's Opinion
Editor Boston American:
I have read articles about disarmament, especially one from Mr. Guglielmo Ferreri, and I, in humble opinion, believe we will never reach a conclusion unless a nation will humble itself in the point of having her chest as open as a book. Here I am disgraced, as I am, without being called a coward, attack that defenseless nation. It is better to return and consider a little the wisdom of Christ, when he said: "He who wishes to love his neighbor as himself, let him love himself." It is therefore, useless to expect peace in this world unless we become real Christians, and show some love and sword. Then nobody will have the courage to attack us.

Business Minds
Not Concentrated
Editor Boston American:
In talking over business conditions the other evening at our club, one man made some statements that impressed upon me. I think you should know them.

"Watch the average business man at his desk," he said. "See him pick up a paper, look at it, glance at it again, then drop it and pick up another paper, light a cigarette, rise from his chair, walk across his office, look out of the window, drop a word with someone and then return to his desk, pick up a first paper again and thereby show that he was trifling with time."

What is the matter with that individual? His lack of concentration. You can increase your power, surely if you can concentrate.

COUPLE HELD ON TWO CHARGES

New York, Nov. 6 (AP)—George W. Griffin, 38, described as an assistant treasurer for the L. C. Smith-Corona Typewriter, Inc., and his wife were in jail today on different charges.

He was held at the request of postal inspectors and private detectives in connection with charges of positions amounting to about $100,000. It is said he sent falsified statements and checks through the mails.

Mrs. Griffin, 37, was charged with felonious assault and violation of the anti-gun law. Griffin said he threatened to shoot a

FEAR MISSING FLIERS DEAD

Atlin, B. C., Nov. 6 (AP)—Believing Capt. E. J. A. Burke and his two companions, lost in northern British Columbia since October 11, never would be found alive, Frank Donahoe, Alaska flier, and his co-pilot, Alonzo Cope, gave up the search today.

Everett Wason, Whitehorse (Yukon) pilot, however, is continuing the search. Three other fliers, Capt. Pat Lennahan and two companions, were being sought along the coastline south of Prince Rupert, B. C., where they dropped from sight while flying northward to join in the Burke search. They had been seen eight days ago.

1920-7. The old Socony Motor Oil . . . a splendid lubricant for the motor of that period. Outsold all others in New York and New England.

1928-9. Socony Aircraft Oil—a vastly improved motor oil; the oil most in demand in New York and New England during this period.

And NOW—the New Socony Motor Oil. Perfected . . . proved in every way! Even better than "Aircraft" for your car.

THE LONGEST FORWARD STEP IN MOTOR OIL!

the new SOCONY MOTOR OIL

Perfected
...proved
in every way!

(Even better than "AIRCRAFT" for your car)

THIS is an announcement so important to every automobile owner that we put aside all technical language and tell it to you in the simplest words.

We have produced the new Socony Motor Oil which gives you—to a greater degree than any other—what you want and should have in a motor oil . . . full lubricating value.

In the new Socony Motor Oil "full lubricating value" means something more than it ever has meant before. For we have perfected and proved for you not just one or two but every characteristic a motor oil should have.

We have worked for more than two and a half years developing this finer lubricant. We have had at our disposal the most highly trained engineers and the most modern research laboratories. We have had the pick of the choicest crude oils and the most up-to-date refineries in the United States. We have had the benefit of 55 years of experience in the manufacture of lubricating oils.

We sincerely believe you will find the new Socony Motor Oil the ideal lubricant for your motor. We invite you, we urge you, to try it.

5 reasons for changing today to the New Socony Motor Oil

1. Perfected Lubrication. Less wear on your motor. The new Socony Motor Oil is made from a Paraffine Base crude, selected because of its greater inherent oiliness (adsorption). Refined by the new and exclusive Socony Process which gives additional lubricating value.
2. Minimum Oil Consumption. Will not break down. No engine heat or pressure severe enough to decompose this oil or destroy its lubricating value. Only through contamination by foreign matter which finds its way into the crank-case can the life of this oil be limited.
3. Easy Starting in Coldest Weather. Selected Paraffine Base Oil . . . completely dewaxed. More fluid at low temperatures than any other oil. Instant lubrication. Less drain on your battery.
4. Fuel Economy and Increased Power. Maintains proper "body" at all engine temperatures. Result: perfect piston seal, maximum power, minimum fuel consumption.
5. A Clean Motor. New refining process reduces to a minimum all harmful elements which cause carbon, gum and sludge. The new Socony Motor Oil insures a clean motor.

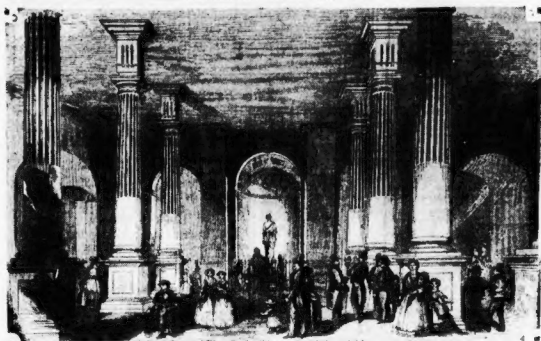

Every statement regarding the superiority of the New Socony Motor Oil is substantiated by actual performance tests in the air, on land, and on the water—certified by recognized authorities.

CAMBRIDGE GIRL TO WED CHILEAN

Miss Lillian Duncan, 23, Cambridge, is to wed Senor Ramon Segovia, millionaire sugar planter of Valparaiso, Chile, on Christmas day. She announced her engagement today in New York, where she is performing in the musical show, "Nina Rosa." Her parents, however, were unopposed in her daily letters.

According to Broadway, she danced her way into Senor Segovia's heart. Only four years ago she was graduated from Cambridge Latin School, class valedictorian. Her mother, Mrs. Alexander Duncan of Raville, N. J., said today a Harvard student from another South American country calls her frequently to learn how she is, and that Lillian mentions another man in her letters, but has never told her parents of the Chilean.

As a Cambridge schoolgirl, Lillian Duncan set a record for high kicking, 38 1/2 inches over her height.

"Lillian isn't going to be married," said Mrs. Duncan. "She certainly would tell us about it, for she is very devoted to her father and mother. I never heard of Senor Segovia."

U. S. Soon to Put Ban Upon Soviet Prison Goods

Washington, Nov. 6 (INS)—New regulations to govern importation of merchandise from abroad, based on the tariff act of 1930, and with special provisions to prevent entry of products of convict labor, are nearly in the Treasury Department to be promulgated by Secretary Mellon.

While all foreign labor products are included in the regulations, they will have a particular bearing on the imports from Soviet Russia, inasmuch as many changes have been filed with the Treasury Department that enthrone coal, pulp wood, manganese and other raw materials have been produced by convict labor in that country.

Officials expressed the opinion that the forced-labor clause of the tariff act would have more bearing on Soviet products than the present provisions, inasmuch as the latter, although it was admitted difficult, might be presented in shielding charges. It has been insisted

One Killed, 36 Hurt in Mine Accident

Nettingham, Eng., Nov. 6 (AP)—One miner was killed and 36 injured in the derailment of haulage cars today in the Moor Green colliery, which got out of control and ran down a hill. Six of the injured were in a serious condition.

SCHALL WINS, FOES ADMIT

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 6 (AP)—A rural rally of ballots today gave Thomas D. Schall, Republican incumbent, the nod for United States senator from Minnesota over Elmer Hoidal, Democrat. It was the first time since tabulating Tuesday's poll that the blind senator had an advantage.

The Minneapolis Journal, Republican newspaper, which led the fight against Senator Schall, conceded victory to him.

Another contest still undecided, which like that of Schall, will have an important bearing on the party composition of Congress, was the tenth Congressional district where a former Democrat, George Jackson, running as a Farmer-Laborer, held a shell, and over Godfrey G. Goodwin, Republican incumbent.

Gov. Long to Stay in Chair Until '32

New Orleans, Nov. 6 (AP)—Governor Huey P. Long reiterated his intentions today to hold the office of Governor of Louisiana until his term expires in May, 1932, before the taking oath of United States Senator Huey P. Long to Senator Joseph R. Randell.

Told that Democratic leaders were planning to urge him to come to Washington on March 4 if the results of the election should make a close division between Republicans and Democrats in the Senate, Governor Long said he did not believe that would be necessary as some of his Republican friends would agree to a pair.

U. S. Aid Sought for 8,000,000 Children

Washington, Nov. 6—A centrally located special education bureau for handicapped children—the lame, deaf, blind, mentally and nervously defective and the under-nourished—was asked today in the report on that phase of the child health problem prepared for the coming White House conference. From such a bureau, the report argues, parents and teachers may receive information for treatment and training of all types of the handicapped, estimated at 8,000,000.

Hospital Head Held in Newark Murder

Newark, N. J., Nov. 6 (AP)—Dr. Charles Gnasel, superintendent of Newark General Hospital, was arrested today on a charge of concealing a crime. Authorities investigating the killing of Dominick Passelli in the hospital Monday night, ordered Dr. Gnasel's arrest for failing to report the fact that Passelli had come to the hospital for the treatment of injuries indicating an assault.

The dog is man's best friend and will save him well and be faithful to him even unto death. But man has been doing his canine friend an injustice according to Professor Lewis. Dogs can be bred for brains but man seems to prefer handsome dogs to which he is in his affection. Read Professor Lewis' article in the American Weekly section of the next Boston Sunday Advertiser.

KING FETED 19 HOURS DAILY

Addis Ababa, Abyssinia, Nov. 6 (AP)—Haile Selassie I, newly crowned king of kings and of razes of Ethiopia, is spending more than 18 hours of each day since his coronation Sunday in ceremonial banquets and festivals. Some of the dinners surpass the most elaborate descriptions of Balahar's feast.

The emperor is up at 5 a. m. to begin the day's celebrations, and it is long after midnight before he goes to bed. He moves democratically among his guests and exchanges kind words with each, apparently enjoying himself. The emperor is remaining at home quietly. American and other foreign envoys here are finding the numerous festivals follow too quickly upon one another.

Thousands of children have filed past the throne to receive congratulations from the king since his coronation.

'Buddy' Rogers in London Reveals He Is 'Love-Shy'

London, Nov. 6 (INS)—Charles "Buddy" Rogers has come to Europe with an inferiority complex concerning women and the assertion that he has never fallen in love.

Asked by English reporters why he has not married, "Buddy" replied, "Why, I guess it is because I have not yet fallen in love. Women in general frighten me. In Hollywood they are all lovely, chic and wise-cracking, and I don't know if I should fall for a thin actress."

"I calculate that I may marry when I'm about 35, says in four years' time. But, of course, I may not."

He admitted that one of the actresses he admired most was Grace Garbo, whom he described as having "super-magnificence." One of the new things "Buddy" confessed to disliking about his life in filmland is receiving fan letters from love-sick women.

Audience Files Out by Candle Light

A short circuit in a transformer that feeds the lights and projection machine of the Shawmut Theatre at 364 Blue Hill ave., Rosbury, threw the theater into darkness last night during a performance and burned wires causing $200 damage.

The transformer was in the rear of the theater building. Candles were lighted and the audience filed out in orderly fashion, receiving tickets for another showing tomorrow.

Chicago, Nov. 6 (AP)—Abe Rubin, a diamond broker, reported today that diamonds valued at $40,000 were stolen from him last night by three bandits who kidnaped him near his home.

8000 TOLD JOBS SAFE, BUY NOW

New York, Nov. 6 (AP)—To the 8000 or so employees of his construction company, Irwin S. Chanin, New York builder, said today: "You, like other wage earners, have been saving your money for a rainy day instead of buying things you need, because you have been afraid you might lose your jobs. That rainy day hasn't come and we believe it will not."

"In return, my assurance that your jobs look safe, buy that new clothing, that household furniture or whatever you would be buying if times were normal. Buy now, because prices in most lines are at rock bottom and because your buying, with that of other wage earners, will bring us all back to prosperity."

"Think and work with enthusiasm and without worrying about the depression."

ROOSEVELT TO TAKE REST

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 6—Having been returned in office by a staggering plurality of 725,000, Gov. Roosevelt came to the capitol today and immediately started putting touches on next year's executive budget.

The Governor found his desk covered with flowers.

"It's great to be back on the job again, but I'll never forget what the people of this state did for me on election day," he said.

He is planning to leave for a "three-weeks" vacation at Warm Springs, Ga., on Nov. 12.

SECOND FISHER COACH LESSON IS PUBLISHED

The Boston Evening American publishes herewith the second in the series of step-by-step instructions for guidance of Fisher Body Craftsmen's Guild members building a miniature model Napoleonic coach. One of the series will be printed each week until the entire process of coach building, trimming and painting has been covered in detail.

Judging by the number of new enrollments recorded within the past week, interest among boys in this section is still gaining momentum. The roster of Boston American Chapter is increasing by scores every day. And there is still plenty of time in which to join and get started in the absorbing pursuit of model coach construction, with the incentive provided by $50,000 in awards!

PLANS SENT FREE
All that is necessary is to fill out the enrollment blank which, for members' convenience, is available at any General Motors car dealer. The blank is sent to the Detroit headquarters of the Guild, which promptly issues the new member, free, a complete portfolio, consisting of membership card, bronze Guild button, color plates of coach, full set of step-by-step instructions and booklet containing all rules. At the same time the member's name is sent to the American, and added to the list of members of the American Chapter of the Guild. There are no fees or dues, and all have an equal chance to earn the four university scholarships and $50,000 in prizes.

In last week's article, Lesson No. 1, we outlined the work for rough shaping the body of the miniature model Napoleonic coach. Now let us go with the lesson for this week.

NEW CONGRESS TO HAVE ONLY 5 WOMEN

Washington, Nov. 6.—The "feminine bloc" in Congress lost two of its seven members in Tuesday's election landslide, according to indications today.

The probability that Mrs. John W. Langley, Republican Congresswoman from Kentucky, had gone down to defeat with Mrs. Ruth Hanna McCormick (R.) of Illinois, was seen in reports from Louisville.

According to the Louisville Courier-Journal, Mrs. Langley, who succeeded her husband after he was convicted of manufacturing liquor, was defeated by A. J. May, Democrat, by a margin of 350 votes.

Mrs. McCormick made an unsuccessful attempt to step from the House to the Senate, being overwhelmingly beaten by Col. James Hamilton Lewis.

For the first time in history two women from the same state, Arkansas, will sit together in the House in the December session of Congress.

Mrs. Effie Gene Wingo, widow of Rep. Otis Wingo, was elected to fill his unexpired term and to succeed two-year term.

She will sit with Mrs. Paul C. Clifford, also elected to the House to succeed her husband, and who has served two years.

Probably the most spectacular victory of recent Congress was that of Mrs. Ruth B. Dwyer (D.) and her husband, who defeated the "feminine bloc" of the House.

Other women members of the House re-elected are Mrs. Ruth Bryan Owen (D.) of Florida and Mrs. Florence P. Kahn (R.) of California, both unopposed; and Mrs. Beth Nourse Rogers (R.) of Massachusetts.

Mrs. Rogers was not a candidate for re-election.

PILOT BEATS THRILLS OF TAIL SPIN

By GEORGE HAMBLIN

Fresh from an experience of cheating death by a small margin, Federal Inspector Jack Moran drove to Boston today from Springfield to confer with Inspector "Doc Hoyt on the stress analysis of the Gee Bee Sportster, single place monoplane.

Waving aside all attempts to congratulate him on his narrow escape, Moran stated that an airplane flat-spinning, hopelessly out of control, does not make you dizzy.

Moran was testing a five-place open cockpit biplane at Roosevelt Field, L. I., and the final test was for recovery from tail spins. He put the ship in an ordinary spin at 5700-foot altitude, but the ship had hardly made one turn when it flattened out in the dreaded "flat spin."

TELLS OF EXPERIENCE

This maneuver means that the airplane, rotating in a horizontal plane, and normal control action thing to do is to resort to the parachute and get the plane on.

"After the ship flattened out, I immediately started to apply opposite rudder, and the ship, with her combined weight, using both hands, could not push it more than five inches forward of vertical."

"Nothing seemed to make the ship pull in its spin, and so I opened the motor for an instant. The only effect was to send the nose up higher, but the spin continued."

PREPARED TO JUMP

"At 5500 feet, I stood up, prepared to 'tail out' and use the parachute, but I dislaid seeing a new airplane smashed. I fought it until the 1000 foot mark flashed past on the altimeter, and I knew I was in for a hard time to play around. Having tried every possible combination of opposite control, I applied aileron and rudder to the left, or in the direction we were spinning. Suddenly the ship cocked itself up in a vertical bank, and by careful flying, I straightened her out. We were six hundred feet above the ground."

"Lieberherg was watching the performance, and remarked: 'That airplane seems to have flat spinning characteristics.'"

MISS TAIT AGAIN FLIES

Miss Maude Irving Tait, Springfield flyer, paid the airport a visit by automobile, having fully recovered from her crash last spring. She was injured when the wings of a glider at Bowles airport. After a short period of recovery, she will apply for her transport license, and if successful, will be the first girl in the State to hold this ticket. She claimed her nerves were not at all affected by her crash.

TRUSTEE HELD IN $380,000 SHORTAGE BELIEVED SHIELDING FRIEND

PROBE SHOWS ACCOUNTS TANGLED

Police Claim Wiley Declared "I Trusted Somebody Too Far" When Arrested

Police today expressed the belief that Henry C. Wiley, under arrest for larceny of $380,000 from estates of which he was trustee, in shielding some person of prominence.

Lieutenant James J. Daley, in charge of the investigation, said he based this belief on the only statement Wiley has made at the time of his arrest last Monday.

At that time, according to Lieutenant Daley, Wiley said: "I trusted somebody else too far."

When pressed for details, he replied: "What is the use of bringing him into it?"

Under instructions from his counsel he has refused to make a further statement.

ACCOUNTS TANGLED

John D. Spaulding, assistant treasurer of the estates of which Wiley was trustee, told Lieut. Daley he never saw any of the accounts in Wiley's possession.

It was known that Wiley had employed a bookkeeper, who was keeping the accounts, but that he was not a bookkeeper, although he was a lawyer, and that he was not a lawyer, although he was a bookkeeper.

Referring to Wiley, Lieut. Daley said he had seen some of his accounts, but that he was not a bookkeeper, and so far as he was able to learn all of the books are in his office.

There is no one who will make an effort to help in the investigation, but the fact that Wiley is refusing to say anything in his statement is a matter of concern.

Attorney J. R. Benton, counsel for Donald N. Hill who discovered the discrepancy in Wiley's accounts, said he would have nothing to say until his attorney has completed their work.

STATE TO TAKE NO ACTION.

Officials of the blue sky department of the public utilities department said they could take no action until the accounts are made public.

Investigations are said to have been made that Wiley had a considerable amount of money in his accounts, but that he was not a bookkeeper, and so far as he was able to learn all of the books are in his office.

Boston Bureau Gives More Jobs Than State

If you have an odd job to be done, call the Municipal Employment Bureau, Liberty 5071, or send the coupon to 25 Church St., Boston.

The Municipal Employment Bureau, for the first time in history, provided more work for the unemployed during the month just past than the State public employment office, Director John J. Shallock of the city bureau announced today.

This he pointed out, was a direct result of the suggestion of the Boston Evening American that the city bureau be given to the needy by the men and women of Greater Boston.

"As the state office has the whole state to work with in the matter of finding jobs, the figures have been added significance," said Shallock.

Every day and its aftermath of excitement yesterday brought a drop in jobs provided at the Boston bureau, but the director explained that this represented a falling off from record-high figures, and was not therefore an indication of a shortage of work.

Once more today, however, he pointed to the people of the metropolis who are looking for work.

The Metropolitan Police Department today issued a warning to drivers to be careful of the icy roads.

TWO FAMOUS FOOTBALL SONS AND A DAD

FANNING

George Underwood
Sons of Famous
Heston and Yost
With Wolverines

The Memorable Duel With Eckersall in '04

"Like father, like son." If the old adage was infallible John Heston would be trembling in his boots, for in addition to facing the long zooming spirals of Harry Newman, the greatest passer that has come out of the West in many moons, the Crimson on Saturday also would have to be standing up under the battering ram attacks of one of the greatest linemen that ever wore mole skins. If Willie Heston, Jr., who will come galloping into the Stadium along with the other Maize and Blue warriors, Saturday afternoon, boasted his old man's ground-gaining ability, Arnold Horween would be ringing up the undertaker and picking the pines Harry prefers right now.

Young Willie Heston is a pretty good football player. He has showed flashes of brilliance and may shine for Michigan if Harry Kipke gives him a chance against Harvard, but as far as filling his old man's brogans—may, nay, Arch! he is a 100 ft. Players like the elder Heston, now a circuit judge in Detroit, only come once in a century.

Two chips of the old block are on the Michigan squad which Capt. Jim Smoot will lead into the stadium. In addition to Willie Heston, Jr., there is Fielding H. Yost, Jr., son of the famous "Hurry Up," 25 years coach at Michigan and one of the greatest coaches in football history.

The football destinies of the Yosts and the Hestons run strangely parallel. Fielding Yost, Sr., came to Michigan in 1891 and promptly developed the "point a minute" combination headed by Willie Heston, Jr. Now, almost 30 years later, Fielding Yost, Jr., and Willie Heston, Jr., are playing on the same Michigan team.

Sons of famous football fathers are prevalent in Western Conference circles. This season, Paul Stagg, son of an illustrious football father, is playing on Chicago, and Jim Creighton is a son of the famous Pat Page. Some of the great players of the past, remember Mark Catlin, great end and captain of the Chicago eleven which beat Michigan 2 to 0 in 1902, the season after the Maize and Blue with Heston as the apex of their attack rolled up 644 points against 18 for their opponents.

Mark Catlin, Jr., is playing football this season, but he wears the Cardinal of Wisconsin instead of the Maize and Blue. "It is a great thing to have a Name," once wrote Charlie Chickering the Yale star, after he had become Assistant District Attorney in New York and wrote football specials for the newspapers, "but sometimes it is a terrible thing to have to live up to that Name."

Chadwick was writing of the son of a famous Yale player. What Charlie said of it being a "terrible thing to have to live up to that Name" is just as apropos regarding Willie Heston, Jr.

The great Heston was an invincible line backer, a human catapult of ruck and iron with phenomenal speed, strength, stamina and endurance. He went nothing for a minute to come marching straight down the field with Heston carrying the ball right, nine, ten times in succession. Heston was not the end skirting Red Grange type. His long off tackle netted just as much ground as did Grange's brilliant flashes around the flanks.

This writer remembers him more for his personal feud with the late Walter Eckersall—green be the turf above him—than for anything else. The Heston-Eckersall duel in the Michigan-Chicago game of 1904 is a football epic.

Eckersall then was Walter Camp's All-American end. Heston was All-American back. Coach Stagg was Yost's arch-rival. Stagg thought that Eckersall was defensive quarterback it would be ironed assurance against Heston getting away for a long run or decisive touchdown.

For two periods and a large part of the third, the teams battled on even terms. The score read 12 to 12, late in the third period. Three times had Eckersall brought Heston to earth when Walter was the only man when Willie and the Maroon goalposts. Stagg's ingenuity apparently was proving a life saver for Chicago.

ECKERSALL AGAIN

Late in the third period with the ball on Michigan's 35-yard line Heston shook himself free of Eckersall's grasp. Again, like Eckersall, his arch-rival, was between him and the goal line, his feet's objective and his heart's desire.

Heston's lightning burst had carried him to the sideline. Willie couldn't sidestep Eckersall to the left without going out of bounds. He couldn't get the right because of the pack of pursuing Maroon tacklers.

Heston plunged straight at Eckersall. Just as Walter dove in to stop him, Heston's right foot was in the air in an spectacular "hurdle" as ever seen. Like a frightened buck Heston cleared Eckersall's head and in a mad dash outdistanced the other Chicago players and raced across the line for the winning touchdown. It was one of the great runs in football history.

Heston's phenomenal 11 n carrying privileges were due to his quick starting and low running. Willie was a great sprinter. With the exception of our own Eddie Easton of Boston, who was even faster at his mark than Arthur Duffy, particularly indoors, Heston got away quicker than any man who ever has come.

Archie Hahn, double sprint winner at the Olympic Games of 1904, only used to nose out Heston at 100 yards. Heston beat Archie Heston's lightning start made him the great ground gainer. He was in full momentum when the ball was snapped in him. Opposing linemen declared sometimes they wouldn't be aware he had the yardage when he past them.

FIELDING H. YOST, SR., center, the famous "Hurry Up" himself. He coached Michigan for a quarter of a century. A good player, although never a great one, he blossomed into one of the greatest football mentors the game ever had. From knute Rockne at Notre Dame will have to shout some to equal "Hurry Up" Yost's record at Michigan. At his right is Willie Heston, Jr., son of Michigan's immortal Willie who is now a circuit judge in Detroit. Willie Heston, Sr., was one of the greatest line backers in football history. He was the apex of Yost's famous "Point a Minute" combination which rolled up unprecedented scores. Young Willie is a good player and shows flashes of brilliance. But filling his old man's shoes is another thing.

Brookline Coach Urges Better Physical Training

HINES FAVORS EARLY START IN SCHOOLS

Editorial Note: This is the sixth of a series by Bill Connell, Brookline coach, of the Boston Evening American on school sports and physical education.

By BILL CONNELL
"A better program of physical education in the elementary schools is the crying need at the present time," said Thomas H. Hines, Brookline high director of athletics, track coach at the school and former football manager.

"Football itself is better than ever before," Hines continued. "The game is regulated by rules which have been made so strict that it is now a safe game."

"But it is not the only game which has been made safe. Football has been made safe by the rules committee. It is not the only game which has been made safe by the rules committee. It is not the only game which has been made safe by the rules committee."

THOUGHTS ON STRADDLING AND EXPLODING

Sometimes the safest club to use in a bunker is a putter. Many golfers are quite astonished when they see for the first time a champion putt out of a bunker, but it is not so. Some golfers are so far as to think it is unimportant to use a putter in a bunker. Yet there is nothing in the rules of golf against it.

For a good lie in a bunker, the golfer is not the best club to use. A mallet or mallet mallet is better, and the shot should be played in every way like an approach shot. Some people seem to have a habit of exploding shots out of a bunker. These individuals seem to think that the consistency of the sand and know just how much to take in the "explosion" shot, which is the "explosion" shot, which is the "explosion" shot.

VETERAN GREEN BACK LOST TO TEAM

Hanover, N. H., Nov. 6.—Ed Sutton, veteran Dartmouth full-back, who has been lost for the rest of the season.

Sutton has a bad shoulder injury, received in the early minutes of the Yale game, and because it has not responded to medical treatment, he has been ordered to take a long rest.

There is a possibility that he may be in shape for the Stanford game, but any work before then appears improbable.

McCall will start the Academy game Saturday at left half back. He has been placed at the right half back position, but he has been on the bench with an ankle injury for the better part of the year.

In addition to McCall, three other backs are learning two backfield positions. Quarterback Bill Morton is also learning the right half back work, while Ward Donner, right half back, is working out at left half. Bob Sumner, a substitute fullback, is mastering the fullback requirements.

Came With Indians Will Test Strength of Bruins

CONQUERED OUTITS N. Y. AMERICANS

One more scrimmage and the game with the Springfield Indians on Saturday night are counted upon by Manager Art Ross to fit the Bruins for their opening game of the National Hockey League season on Garden ice next Tuesday.

The Boston squad must be a stage of the season of the Americans who have had a little more practice but the Bruins give no indication of this in their practice sessions on Garden.

A Bruins squad seldom is as hard as this has been this season. Manager Ross has had out a heavy work-out and the players have taken every bit of work ordered and taken it with a spirit that is typical of the American champions.

The Bruins practice as would work and move work from the time the players step on the ice and a full three weeks work of practice has been given to the team and the American players.

The first look (front) to meet an improved American team on Tuesday night, and one, too, that will have an advantage from the standpoint of experience against opposition. While a good many of the Bruins were waiting at the border to hear their admittance papers approved, the Americans and the New Haven team of the Canadian-American League were scrimmaging in Galt, Ontario.

Coach Will Not Play for Americans

Edward Conacher will be the only Boston favorite nursing from the new Americans' interest, having declared that it is now his play with a team of which he once was the manager.

Red Fulton, member of the Red Red team from Montreal, will be a newcomer to the Bruins, and he will be a strong back up, a player, who also includes Joe Spring, Bill Brydges and Bullet Joe Simpson.

STOCK MARKET STIFFENS AFTER NEW DECLINES

New York, Nov. 6.—The stock market stiffened in late trading today after recording new low prices for numerous issues in the earlier part of the session. There was some rather heavy liquidation during the forenoon, in which utilities took a prominent part. The selling was readily absorbed by noon.

FAIR RALLY STAGED

A fair rally was staged, in the course of which the afternoon saw much short covering and the wiping out of most of the losses, with some of the leaders a point or two above their starting points.

U. S. Steel was up over a point. American Water Works closed a point higher, after declining about 2 to a new 1930 low. About a score of other utilities rallied after declining about a point to new minimum prices. American Telephone, after touching new low ground at 190½, closed at 192½. U. S. In-

1904, closed at 192 1/4, up 3/4. Union Carbide, Kennecott, Loews, and American Can were among industrials closing up 1 to 2 points. In the rails, Union Pacific declined 2 points to a new low, and slight losses in Pennsylvania, and New Haven were sufficient to record new minimums.

Moderately higher prices in the Chicago grain markets helped Wall st. to somewhat improved speculative sentiment.

Medicine Show to Stardom

OUT OF CHARLESTOWN came Jack Donahue after doing some fancy stepping on the sidewalks and kitchen floors to take the Medicine Wagon stage with his "laughing fit." He made good then and shone later as his practice boffited him for Broadway's best assignments. The medicine man we'll call "Doc." "Doc" sold cure-all just. There is a tip that the salve was for the most part—just lard. Jack and his pal bought the lard. They did the entertaining. You see Jack with Lily Danne, with whom Jack started on Broadway. The medicine wagon dancing days had been fruitful. Jack was now a full fledged dancing star, of which there was no equal.

DONAHUE IN DR. SPENCER IN HEALTH POST

High-Priced "Fat" Parents Call a Halt

"That salve," was Jack's reply. "It was nothing more nor less than the shortening of my pig—popularity known as lard!"

"The 'Doc' would send one of us to a store before the show to purchase a five-pound pail of lard. Then he'd make us take the lard out of the big pail put it in the little tin. We were made excellent time behind that nag from one point of sale to another!"

His parents received some inkling of the nature of the "Doc's" salve, to the sale promotion of which their oldest child was a contributor, and Jack was brought back pronto to Charlestown where his father, speaking very plainly and with considerable emphasis, voiced his opinion of dancing and the dam-folks to which it was bound to lead a man-child.
